Billowing beauty

Prune Hill became a popular spot for sightseers last Tuesday as Mount St. Helens sent clouds of steam and ash billowing miles into the sky. The photo above is of the third eruption that day. POST Photo by Charlie Spencer.

July 30-1980